

18ECO134T – Sensors and Transducers

Unit IV : Session 5 : SLO 1

FILM SENSORS

- Such sensors are produced by film deposition in different thickness.
- Deposition is done on substrates.
- The method for thick and thin film deposition are different.
- The sensors produced through these techniques have varying electrical and mechanical properties while a variable is being sensed.